RICHARD BROOKS

On Saturday May 23, Moscow lost one of her respected citizens when Richard James Brooks died in his 76th year.

He was the only son of the late Wellington Brooks and his wife, Rosana Dunn and grandson of Richard Brooks, a pioneer of the Township of Portland—a farmer, a mill owner and lumberman.

Mr. Brooks was born and grew to manhood on his father's farm at Bellrock.

His wife before her marriage was Bertha Pearl Huffman, eldest daughter of the late Hiram Huffman, a descendant of one of Moscow's pioneer families.

Following his marriage, Mr. Brooks and his wife settled on a farm at Moscow and later moved to a larger farm in a more central locality.

Surviving are his wife and two sons—Hawley on the homestead and Melburn on the adjoining farm and three grandchildren.

The funeral services were held from his late residence on Tuesday May 26th, to the Moscow Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Norman, of the United Church, officiated.

The pall-bearers were Roy Lampkins, Trever Armstrong, Garnet Huffman, Edgar Drew, Arthur McQuay and Bert Jackson.

The flower-bearers were Harry Switzer, Gordon Huffman, Donald Huffman, Jack Huffman, Charles Amey and Rufus Wagar.

Friends in attendance from a distance were Lyman Huffman from Watertown, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. J. Hamilton from Oshawa, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huffman from Sharbot Lake and Leo Tuggy from Kingston.
